STRIKERS HOPE FOR VICTORY

Corporations Try to Make Out That Men Are Plentiful.

SAN FRANCISCO, JUNE 25.—THE STRIKING TELE-GRAPHERS ARE NOT WORRIED BY THE REPORTS SENT OUT BY THE CORPORATIONS. THEY SAY THE COMPANIES ARE BADLY TIED UP AND HAVE FEW MEN. THE STRIKERS ARE EXCEEDINGLY HOPEFUL. THEY ARE RECEIVING AID FROM ALL OVER THE COUNTRY.

(By ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—The situation in the telegraphers strike remains unchanged, with everything peaceful around the main offices of the companies and work proceeding as though no tie-up of the wires was in existence.

The formal notice of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph Companies to their striking operators to return to work yesterday was ignored by the men, as was expected. None returned to work, and the chief operators and officials of both companies were busy working at the keys themselves.

The company officials said that the refusal of the men to return severed finally the bond heretofore existing.

MANY STRIKE-BREAKERS.
Superintendent May of the Western Union declared that his company was engaging men, but would not say how many. He said they were coming from all directions, and that normal conditions would prevail soon.

The officials of both companies claim they are within a half hour of their work all the time. The government business was being handled, said Storrer, without any delay at all.

Although messages are being handled with reasonable promptness so far, the companies refuse to take them except subject to indefinite delay owing to the fear of interference with the wires or delays in the East.

OFFICER ARRESTED.
LONDON, June 25.—A dispatch to a news agency from Odessa says it is authoritatively reported that sixty officers of the Southern Military district, several of them connected with the Odessa Garrison, have been arrested.

SHERIFF O'NEILL IS WARNED BY JUDGE LAWLOR

POLICE IN ASSAULT CASES WILL IGNORE THE COURTS

Hope to Expedite Cause of Justice and Secure Severe Punishment Through Action of the Grand Jury.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—The police, it is said, intend to expedite matters in all assault cases growing out of the strike troubles by taking the cases at once before the Grand Jury and avoiding the delay of carrying them through the police courts; and also, by this method, to make the punishment of such severity that it will have a deterrent effect on the

EXPECT COURT DECISION DISQUALIFYING SCHMITZ

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—Declarative action may be taken by Judge Dunne on Thursday when Eugene E. Schmitz comes up for sentence, to remove any lingering doubt that the one-time chief executive of the city has to his official status. Acting upon the section of the political code it is within the authority of the Judge to notify the supervisors that Schmitz is no longer mayor, and thus pave the way for the election of his successor. Significant in this connection is the announcement of the prosecutors that they will take no further steps until after Schmitz has gone before Judge Dunne for sentence.

District Attorney Langdon declared yesterday that he would take no steps for the time being regarding City Treasurer Bantels' decision to pay no warrants unless they were signed by both Schmitz and Acting-Mayor Gallagher. Langdon explained that the salaries of city officials were not involved and that there were but few contingencies likely to arise within the next few days that would demand the signature of the mayor on a warrant. By the time any thing of importance demands attention, it is believed that the question as to the validity of Gallagher's appointment and power will have been settled beyond all question by a court ruling to the effect that Schmitz's conviction by a trial jury carried with it his absolute removal from office.

HE IS TOLD TO BEWARE

Musin't Take Schmitz About Without Court Order.

(TRIBUNE CORRESPONDENCE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—Judge Lawlor severely reprimanded Sheriff O'Neill this morning for bringing Mayor Schmitz into court when his case was not being considered.

The convicted Mayor has found it agreeable to attend the sessions of Judge Lawlor's court rather than spend the time at the county jail.

It also makes it possible to offer an excuse for taking lunch at home. Yesterday Judge Lawlor ordered the Sheriff not to bring the Mayor into court until this afternoon as no further call of indictments against the Mayor was to be made until that time. The Mayor, however, came into court promptly as usual and took his seat within the space reserved for the bar.

At the conclusion of the morning session Judge Lawlor called the Sheriff and his own court bailiff.

"Why is it," he said, "that the orders of this court are not obeyed?" They both attempted to explain that there had been some mistake in understanding the order and having it transmitted by telephone. But the judge was not well pleased, and was rather testy in his permission to allow the Mayor to take lunch at home.

"It is the custom of the court," said Judge Lawlor, "to order that prisoners brought into court in the morning shall be given their lunch at the expense of the county, because of the inaccessibility of the present jail."

SEVEN KILLED AND MANY INJURED IN TENEMENT FIRE

Whole Family of Italians Are Stricken in Collapse of Building—Walls Fall on Firemen.

NEW YORK, June 25.—Seven persons, six of them members of one Italian family, were killed early today in the collapse of a tenement in the down town, Italian quarter. Three other members of the same family, including the father and mother, are in a hospital, painfully injured, but will recover. There were some exciting scenes immediately following the accident, one of which was the rescue of an old man from a two-foot ledge, forty feet from the ground, this portion of the falling building having adhered to the adjoining structure long enough to permit the firemen to get to the scene, raise a ladder and take the man safely to the ground. Then it also fell into the ruins.

The collapsed building was a four-story affair over fifty years old and was located at the corner of Walker and Lafayette streets. It had been in a dangerous condition because of excavations for a new building on the adjoining premises. Most of the tenants, warned by the ominous creaking, fled a few minutes before it collapsed. The dead were buried under tons of debris, and it was not until the firemen and volunteers had worked for four hours that their bodies were recovered.

BUILDER ARRESTED.
George Blumenthal, the contractor who had charge of the recent repairs of the building, was arrested and charged with homicide. That many more persons did not lose their lives in the collapse of the building was due to two of the younger people of the house who attended an Italian celebration last night. The boys reached home shortly before 2 o'clock this morning, and, warned by the severe shaking of the house, ran through the building and warned the sleeping tenants of the impending danger.

Dozens of persons ran into the streets in their night clothes, and many of them had scarcely reached the street before the crash came. Five minutes later scores of firemen were at work tearing away at the piles of brick and timbers in the hope that some of the buried persons might be taken out alive. After a few minutes' tearing at the timbers and bricks the firemen heard a low moan and in the dim light they saw a hand moving convulsively. The men caught it and the man under the ruins murmured: "For God's sake save my sister." It was George Torchini, six of whose brothers and sisters perished in the ruins.

WALL FALLS ON FIREMEN.
The firemen dragged away the debris trying to free the young man. Just then a watcher cried, "Look out, boys; run; she's falling." The fragments of the wall tottered and fell, throwing up a cloud of dust and concealing from the view of the anxious crowd in the street the firemen whom every one supposed were buried. Only Battalion Chief Galvin and Ladderman Samet were badly injured. The others went back to digging in spite of their bruises. It was thought that George Torchini would be killed by the falling wall, but his life was saved by a strange happening. Part of the wooden roof had remained upon the wall over the hole where the firemen opened to him and bricks and timbers rained harmlessly on this canopy. The firemen pulled it off and soon had Torchini out. A few moments later the firemen took out Torchini's father and mother. They were the last to be taken out of the wreck. They are seriously wounded.

UNIONS TO JOIN IN REQUEST

Sherman Anti-Trust Law to Be Basis for an Inquiry.

In THE TRIBUNE last night there was published an exclusive statement to the effect that President Small of the Telegraphers' Union would appeal to President Roosevelt and the members of his cabinet in effort to settle the telegraphers strike.

Complete substantiation of THE TRIBUNE'S story is given today by the Associated Press in a dispatch under a date line of Oyster Bay, New York, in which it is stated that President Roosevelt today received a message asking him to cause an investigation to be made to ascertain whether the telegraph companies have violated the Sherman anti-trust law by conspiracy in restraint of trade.

TO MAKE APPEALS.
According to the plans of President Small and his advisors, it is believed that if President Roosevelt and members of his cabinet undertake an investigation of the strike in Oakland and San Francisco, that an arbitration of the difficulty will follow.

Up to the present time President Roosevelt has ordered no investigation and has given no indication of his probable action in the matter.

It is known, however, that all the leading labor organizations in the United States are forming appeals to President Roosevelt to cause an investigation of the actions of the telegraph companies as to whether they have violated the Sherman anti-trust law by conspiracy in restraint of trade.

BURLINGAME CLUB OFFICERS TESTIFY AGAINST PARR

Preliminary Examination of the Accused Secretary Is Begun Before Justice Johnson.

ALAMEDA, June 25.—The preliminary examination of Ralph E. Parr, who for some time was employed as a clerk at the Burlingame Club, and who is accused of raising a check from $6 to $600, which he cashed at the Alameda Bank, opened this morning before Justice E. B. Johnson.

Parr sat at the table with his attorney, a cigar clenched in his fingers, looking over the codes and copying from them the statutes referring to the forgery charge he is fighting. It was necessary for him to have the attorney W. H. L. Hynes to draw up a new complaint as the first complaint was faulty. Attorney Howard K. James represented Parr.

NO ATTEMPT TO SIGN.

George A. Newhall, the president of the Burlingame Country Club, was the first witness called. He was asked if he had given permission to Parr for the young man to draw any checks on the club. He answered in the negative. Newhall, under questioning, stated he had signed a check payable to W. Buchmann for $6, and that was the check that Parr had drawn to $600.

Superintendent McCloud of the club was the second witness called. He stated that Parr had been in the employ of the club about five months and had no power to draw checks. He was still on the stand answering for-

WILL STUDY PHYSICAL GEOGRAPHY FROM FIELD

BERKELEY, June 25.—In response to the large demand for field work in physical geography, a field study of typical portions of the coast province of California, will be instituted by the university faculty this summer with R. S. Holway, associate professor of physical geography in charge of the class. The course is open principally to graduate students and teachers of physical geography. The number of students is limited to fifteen.

The work will probably be divided in three periods, of two weeks each, a different locality to be used as center for each period.

BERKELEY FIRST CENTER.

For the first two weeks, Berkeley will be regarded as center, and the study of the evidence which formed San Francisco a bay and of a portion of the earthquake zone will be taken up by the students.

During the second period of two weeks, the center will regard the coast north of Santa Cruz, as center, and study of shore line topography and raised ocean beaches will be gone into by the student.

The center will be near Guerneville during the third period, where the Russian river and the coast mountains will be studied.

REGISTRATION LOW AT THE SUMMER SESSION

BERKELEY, June 25.—Four hundred and twenty students had registered for the summer session of the university, which number is 105 students less than were registered at this time last year.

Professor Reiter, dean of the summer school, expressed himself as well satisfied with the attendance as it is, saying that he has not seen a more earnest set of students and that he believes there will be many more students enrolled in a short time.

Professor Reiter stated that a very good faculty would teach this summer, each man being an expert in his work. He said that it was a fact that the university of California provided a better faculty to preside over the summer school each year than Harvard and other large colleges of the East. One great inducement for professors to come to California for the summer is the climate.

LODGE GROWING RAPIDLY.

BERKELEY, June 25.—The local lodge of the Fraternal Brotherhood held an enjoyable meeting in Odd Fellows Hall last evening, at which many visitors were present, and seven new members were initiated. The local lodge is rapidly forging to the front rank, new members joining daily, and there is scarcely a meeting night when there is not half a dozen or more new members joining.

At last night's meeting a social followed the work and the one hundred members present went to their homes feeling they had a delightful time. Light refreshments were served by the women of the lodge.

NANCE O'NEIL IS A SUCCESS

"Fires of St. John" Her Best Offering at Ye Liberty Playhouse.

By far the most artistic performance yet given by Nance O'Neil was that given at Ye Liberty theater last night, when Sudermann's drama "The Fires of St. John" was presented. The play is a fine specimen of modern poetic drama and hinges round the story of "Marika" a founding child of Henry Vogelreuter, a German. Marika is the Cinderella of the household and learns the secret of her birth, and also the fact that her mother is a thief and a drunkard. For a time she heeds the call of heredity but on St. John's eve bids her foster parents farewell to "go forth, work, sleep till the work begins again."

The success of the performance is greatly helped by the excellent support given Miss O'Neil. George Cooper gives a delineation of "The West-kalene" that reminds one of what we read of the great Charlotte Cushman's "Meg Merrilies" in the 70's. Madeline Maxwell as "Trude" gives a graceful vitality to the role. Landers Stevens is thoroughly at home as "George" von Harten, while the veteran McKee Rankin, dry, witty, yet kindly sympathetic as "Vogelreuter" is clever and fills one's memory with visions of "The Canuk" a success not yet surpassed by any American.

Miss O'Neil's embodiment of "Marika" is of course the star attraction and exemplifies her versatility. It is not her strongest role by any means, but it is well high perfect, as a portrayal of passionate emotion, wild as a storm, an individuality fraught with pathos, enhanced by gesture and expression.

She embodies the poetic ideal of the author, the spirit, moral regality, and isolation of mind of the famine child and rising to a height of dramatic fervor in act three in the closing act she charms her audience with her earnestness and lifts them up with her to that grand and beautiful eminence, the desire—the endeavor of youth to vindicate a dishonored name. The curtain drops; the play seems unfinished, but Miss O'Neil does not leave the audience in doubt, scenery is forgotten, the curtain closes only to the eyes; her words ring in one's ears and finishes the story:

"I can never be wholly poor again—St. John's fires have burned for me once, one night, once."

Students of modern drama should not fail to see Miss O'Neil in this beautiful work. Her engagement closes with its last performance next Sunday night. Next week, "Alice of Old Vincennes," will be the offering with the reorganized Ye Liberty company.

ENEMIES OF OAKLAND ARE PROMPTLY DOWNED

Attempt to Prevent Maude Adams Coming Here Meets With Miserable Failure.

The interpretation of the State laws as regards to children playing on the theatrical stage does not apply to the production of "Peter Pan" as played by Miss Maude Adams, and, according to the statement of Probation Officer Christopher Ruess, there will be no proceedings against the popular play when it comes to the Macdonough Theater during the latter part of next month.

"I have not taken any steps toward stopping this play and I have not made statements of what I would do in this matter. The enforcing of the law, or its interpretations lay with the district attorney and the superior judges," said the probation officer this morning.

The law specifies the prohibition of children under the age of sixteen from playing in parts where they must sing, dance, walk wire ropes, be contortionists and other parts that apply to vaudeville shows. The law is very lenient with dramas and plays of a higher standing. There seems to be no loop hole where the ban will be placed on the play of "Peter Pan." Ruess says he has been placed in a somewhat ridiculous position by the stories in the San Francisco dailies concerning his stand on this matter.

It seems after a close observation of the law, according to the official, that the original story on his objections to "Peter Pan" came from the pen of rustling press agents who desired to lay a way to increase his company's box office receipts.

Ruess says he will enforce the law to the letter where it applies to the cheap amusement houses which, he says, contaminates the youngsters who are reared in improper surroundings. The newly appointed probation officer, who was formerly the Unitarian pastor at Alameda, says he has no political aspirations that would place him in a position to create a little sensation to increase publicity.

Great effort is being made to try and prevent Maude Adams from playing in Oakland. THE TRIBUNE is pleased to learn that Probation Officer Ruess is not a party to the conspiracy to try and injure Oakland. Recently lying advertisements were printed in the three San Francisco papers to the effect that Miss Adams would not play in Oakland. This was a willful falsehood on the part of the Van Ness Avenue Theater management and was done to try and injure Oakland. When this failed a silly attempt was made to try and work the probation officer. Oakland is big enough to down its enemies as it has downed the lies about Maude Adams coming here. Loyal Oaklanders will wait until she comes here. Not fifty people have gone to the Van Ness Theater from this city to see Miss Adams. However, when she comes here she will be given a royal reception and she will have cause to remember the greatest city on the Pacific Coast. Oakland is now known as the best theatrical city in the West. There are now ten theaters running nightly here, with the Orpheum to be opened in September.—Editor.]

CHARGED WITH INTENT TO FRAUD INNKEEPER

BERKELEY, June 25.—Grover Handkerlin and Arnold Peterson were arrested yesterday afternoon by Citizens Ader and Bacon, and turned over to Patrolman LeStrange, who booked them on a charge of defrauding an innkeeper. The two men have been boarders at the Golden West Hotel, corner of Seventh street and University avenue, and it is alleged owe Ader and Bacon, the proprietors, $10 each. From preparations the men were making the proprietors think Handkerlin and Peterson were about to make a "quick getaway," and the hotel men placed the men under arrest.

Ader and Bacon entered complaint this morning. AUTOISTS FROM SOUTH. Four Angelenos arrived in Oakland yesterday from Los Angeles in their big touring car of the Dobson make on their way to Lake Tahoe and the Yosemite. The party consisted of W. H. Holmes and wife and J. H. Payne and wife, well-known people of the southern metropolis, who are on a six weeks' tour of the state in their mammoth car. They leave this afternoon on their journey to other points and will return to the Angel city before July 1.

ELEVEN TO SWEAR ORCHARD SLEW TO REVENGE SELF

Murderer of Steunenberg Recalled by the Defense to Lay Foundation for Impeachment of His Testimony.

BOISE, Idaho, June 25.—Counsel for William D. Haywood devoted the early part of this morning's session of court to the completion of the basis for Harry Orchard's impeachment, and then, calling the first witness, entered upon a showing of relationship at Cripple Creek, prior to the independence station explosion, between Orchard and K. C. Sterling, then chief detective for the Mine Owners' Association.

The impeachment of Orchard relates almost entirely to the proposition that he repeatedly professed that he had been wronged by Governor Steunenberg, and that, when he talked of his wrongs, he invariably threatened to kill Steunenberg. The men by whom the defense plans to impeach Orchard in this connection, and incidentally show Orchard in an independent position in the Steunenberg case, are Max Malich of Denver, Dr. McGee of Wallace, D. C. Copeley, formerly a member of the board of the Federation of Miners; Charles A. Sullivan, formerly a miner at Cripple Creek; Frank A. Hough of Wallace; James A. Rainey, a stage driver at Wallace; Lottie Day of Denver; F. R. Reed, formerly a miner at Cripple Creek; David Coates, formerly Lieutenant Governor of Colorado, and William Easterly and W. F. Davis, who were leaders of the Cripple Creek strike.

DENIES MAKING THREATS. Orchard positively denied that he ever made threats against Steunenberg or any of the men named at any time or place. Haywood continues an active participant in the conduct of his case. Today he alertly watched every witness, and besides offering numerous suggestions to his attorneys, made extended notes as the taking of testimony proceeded.

BOISE, Idaho, June 25.—When the trial was resumed this morning there was a surprise in store for the spectators. The defense in opening its case asked permission to recall Harry Orchard in order to put a few additional questions to the State's most important witness. Orchard had been brought in from the penitentiary and was put on the stand immediately after court opened. Attorney Richardson questioned him. He wanted to know if Orchard had not told Max Malich, a Turkish bath man in Denver, that Governor Steunenberg was responsible for his being a poor man and that he intended to kill him. Orchard said he had been to the bath with Malich, but denied that there had been any such conversation. Orchard next was asked if he knew John D. Elliott. "I do not," replied the witness. Elliott was in court and was requested to stand up. Orchard looked at him, shook his head and said he did not know the man. He denied having any conversation with the man in which he is alleged to have told Elliott he was in the employ of the Mine Owners' Association.

TO STARTLE WORLD. Richardson asked Orchard if he had not told Elliott that capital had determined to get rid of union labor and would begin with the Western Federation of Miners; that something was going to happen soon in Idaho and would startle the world. Orchard also denied talking with Elliott about Governor Steunenberg. "Do you know D. C. Copeley?" asked Richardson.

"Yes sir." "Did you in his room at San Francisco discuss the blowing up of Fred Bradley and say that Bradley got what he deserved?" "I don't know." "Didn't you say to Copeley that there was another man who had a hand in the Cough D'Alene troubles—Governor Steunenberg—and that this man had driven you out of the country and you intended to kill him?" "No sir, I didn't say just that, neither in substance nor effect. There was a conversation in which Governor Steunenberg's name was mentioned."

DENIES CONVERSATION. Orchard was next confronted by Charles A. Sullivan, a miner from Cripple Creek. He said he knew Sullivan, but denied having a conversation with him in which he said that Governor Steunenberg ought to be traded, and that if he was not killed, Orchard would kill him himself.

Orchard successively denied having had similar conversations with Fred Eough of Wallace, James Rainey, a stage driver, and Lottie Day, a woman he knew in Denver. "Did you tell Lottie Day that you had some money in Pettibone's store that you had got from gambling?" "No sir."

Orchard denied in turn having made threats against David Coates, F. R. Reed, W. B. Easterly and W. F. Davis.

EXHIBIT PHOTOGRAPHS. The defense here offered evidence in the form of gallery pictures of Orchard taken after his arrest for the murder of Governor Steunenberg. The pictures show Orchard in a garb resembling that of a tramp, unshaven and unkempt. Attorney Richardson said the pictures were offered to show the jury the condition of Orchard at the time of the murder as contrasted with his appearance today. Judge Wood admitted the photographs and they were handed to the jurors, who examined them closely.

Another picture of Orchard in a group of three men, with one holding a smoking revolver, was also introduced in evidence by the defense. The picture was taken in Salt Lake City in 1901. Orchard said the picture was taken as a novelty. His companions were Andy and Peter Christiansen.

In his direct testimony Orchard told of making a trip into the Windicator mine with a man named Joe Scholtz. Confronted today by a man giving his name as Scholtz, Orchard said he was not the person of whom he had spoken.

DEFENSE CALL WITNESS.

Then came the first witness for the defense—Mrs. Mary J. King, who formerly conducted a rooming house in Cripple Creek. Mrs. King, an elderly, refined woman, was examined by Clarence Darrow. She first told of her family, saying she had several grown sons who are miners, but are not now and never were members of the union.

Mrs. King said that K. C. Sterling, chief of detectives for the Mine Owners' Association of Colorado, lived at her house in Cripple Creek. She saw Orchard visit his room seven or more times, generally in the evening. Sterling engaged and paid for a room occupied by Mrs. McKinney, the wife of the man charged with pulling spikes on the Florence and Cripple Creek railroad—the attempted wreck which the union claims the railroad officials and mine owners undertook themselves with the intent of placing the blame on the Western Federation of Miners. Mrs. King said she saw Orchard knocking several times on Mrs. McKinney's door.

The examination of the witness consisted of questions tending more closely to fix the date of Sterling's stay at the King house.

DAUGHTER ON STAND.

Miss Frances King, a daughter of the preceding witness, took the stand and identified Orchard as the man she had seen in the vicinity of the house in Cripple Creek several times. She was not examined and gave way to Mrs. Alice Fitzhugh, who succeeded Mrs. King as proprietor. Mrs. Fitzhugh said that Detective Sterling continued to live in the house for some time after she took charge. She saw Harry Orchard go to Sterling's room at least a dozen times. She also saw McKinney, the man accused of the spike pulling, in Sterling's room following his release from jail.

On examination Mrs. Fitzhugh said she kept no record of her roomers and was testifying wholly from memory. C. W. Aller, of Leadville, Colorado formerly a telegraph operator in the employ of the Florence and Cripple Creek railroad, was the next witness. He told of seeing Harry Orchard, K.

"You are just guessing about the matter, aren't you?" said Attorney Hawley for the State. "And you are not sure about anything?" "I am only sure about it being Orchard," replied the witness. Two of the next witnesses desired by the defense were not in the room and court took a recess at 11:45 p. m. until 1:30 p. m.

Committee Recommends Design of San Francisco Firm for Berkeley Building.

BERKELEY, June 25.—Another step was taken last night in construction of a new town hall, when the special committee on plans and specifications made its report and named Bakewell & Brown of 1860 Webster street, San Francisco, as the successful architects. The plan adopted will require some revision and the board of trustees will meet Wednesday evening to talk over this matter with Bakewell & Brown.

The committee on plans reported as follows: "Our committee appointed to examine the plans and specifications for new town hall, beg to report that eleven sets were duly presented. At the first meeting of the committee numbered each set of plans and the sealed envelopes accompanying the same with the corresponding number, so that no mistake could be made in identifying the plan finally selected. Our committee has held numerous meetings in consultation with consulting architect, Galen Howard, and has reached the unanimous decision in favor of the Town Clerk Mendenhall was instructed to write each of the competing architects, asking them if they objected to placing their plans on exhibition in Berkeley. This was suggested by several of those who were in the competition.

ORNAMENT THREAT TO KILL WITH COFFIN ON MISSIVE

Oakland, Cal.

Progress in Public Improvement.

The decision of the Council to complete, with the financial co-operation of interested property-owners, the boulevard around Lake Merritt, from Grand avenue to East Eighteenth street, deserves unqualified public approval. It is an improvement that should have been made long ago. When this section of the boulevard is completed there will be a driveway clear round the lake that will add greatly to the attractions of that beautiful sheet of water.

As soon as the park bonds are sold and the necessary property rights secured, the lake should be dredged and the marsh lying south of the Twelfth street causeway reclaimed and improved as a park. This, we understand, is the intention of the present municipal administration, which has already acquired and is improving for park purposes the flat lying above the northeastern arm of the lake.

The city is pledged by every moral consideration to fill in and park the Twelfth street marsh at an early date. That property was purchased and given to the city by private parties on condition that it be improved for a park. The promise has been long delayed, and should now be redeemed, more particularly as the improvement is a necessary part of the plan to dredge the lake to render it more available for boating, for which it is admirably adapted. Moreover, the reclamation of the marsh will transform an eyesore into a beautiful pleasure ground and adorn the surroundings of the lake and the general aspect of the city.

For another thing, dredging the lake and filling in the marsh will be attended by the construction of a permanent causeway to replace the dilapidated wooden trestle bridge on Eighth street. Thus three much desired improvements are combined in one general scheme of betterment that will be of enormous public benefit. It is one, too, that can be carried out at comparatively small cost, as the marsh will be filled to a height of several feet with dredgings from the lake, the waters of which will be cleansed by removing the soft, filthy mud covering the bottom.

The Blunders of a Buffoon.

The editor of the Los Angeles Graphic appears to be a compound of Bottom and Thersites—half ass and half blackguard. His references to Oakland are invariably colored by ignorance and mendacity, the earmarks of stupidity and malice. He opens a long article, pointless and witless, full of cheap sneers at this city, with the statement that the people of Oakland are "put in the abject position of protecting their rights to their unoccupied water front by an expensive fence of piles for fear that predatory railroads may steal it from under their noses."

The "expensive fence of piles" is like the Graphic's respect for the truth, an absent quantity. Many years ago the city pulled up a fence of piles driven around a portion of the water front by one of the railroads, but it has never tried to fence in the water front itself. Of course the wild absurdity of the railroad trying to steal the water front is hilariously apparent to every intelligent person in the State, and naturally provokes the laughter of so wise, witty and truthful a person as the editor of the Los Angeles Graphic.

The fences of piles around the "unoccupied sections of Oakland's water front," which the Graphic editor doubtless saw in crossing the ferry, were driven by the railroads and not by the city. They were not driven to prevent the water front being stolen from the city, but as a preliminary to occupancy and improvement by the railroads.

Now, Bottom, show your breed and bray again. Also excuse your malicious mendacity by coining another foolish falsehood.

An editorial in the San Francisco Call, comparing the sums spent for building in Eastern cities during the month of May with the amount expended for the same purpose in the leading Pacific Coast cities, considerably omits mention of Oakland. This neighborly omission was doubtless due to oversight, but the complaint is becoming so acute in San Francisco newspaper offices as to require treatment. The editors across the bay ought to adjust their spectacles so they can see what is going on over here. The peculiarities of a vision that clearly discerns Los Angeles Portland and Seattle, yet is blind to Oakland suggest enlargement of the spleen.

The Sacramento Bee says it is convinced there was no graft in the gift by the Supervisors of certain streets in and around Folsom to a dredging company. We are glad to hear it. The Bee also says the Supervisors, after an exposure had been made, withdrew the sanction it had given to the destruction of the highways. We are glad to hear that also. However, our Sacramento contemporary endorses unreservedly THE TRIBUNE'S view that the action of the Supervisors was illegal and a gross abuse of the powers vested in them. Publicity is a good thing in such matters.

General Funston's remarks concerning the newspaper comments on his "unwhipped mob" letter are sulphurous and reverberatory, as becomes a son of thunder. The little general intimates that while he craves for peace, he is ready to fight to preserve it. His gory propensities come to him naturally. He was bred in Bleeding Kansas, and learned the art of war while wielding the ink roller of a Washington hand-press. He is a trifle testy in temper and hasty in speech, but his opinion, however imprudently uttered, of blackguards who insult women and throw stones through car windows is shared by decent men everywhere.

Clarence Darrow says it is the Western Federation of Miners that is on trial at Boise. In a broad sense that is true. If Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone are guilty of the atrocities charged against them, the Western Federation is a criminal organization so far as its inner councils are concerned. Nor are the charges met and disproved by asserting that the destruction of the federation is desired by a set of greedy, conscienceless mine-owners. That also is true, as is also the charge that Governor Peabody ruthlessly violated constitutional and natural rights in Colorado. Nevertheless, there was murder, arson and dynamiting on an extensive scale in Idaho and Colorado, and if Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone plotted or conspired at the crimes they deserve death on the gallows, and the inner circles of their organization cannot escape condemnation for complicity. Nor can organized labor afford to assume the attitude of defending assassins and incendiaries and condoning murder and arson. Crime is crime, and while Haywood and his associates are entitled to a fair trial and an impartial judgment, their guilt means the guilt also of many of their associates. And the fact cannot be ignored that the atrocities Orchard described on the witness stand were actually committed.

"LITTLE BRIGHT EYES."

A Question of Expediency.

After borrowing $1,500,000 in New York to assist in rebuilding San Francisco, former Mayor James D. Phelan returns home convinced that the city should proceed at once to bring a water supply from the Sierra Nevada mountains. The cost of the project was estimated by Engineer C. E. Grunsky several years ago at $39,000,000, exclusive of the distributive system. Mr. Phelan thinks the cost now would be ten per cent more, perhaps, which would bring the expense up to $42,900,000.

Assuming that San Francisco should own her own water supply, and that the only proper source is the Sierra Nevada mountains, is it expedient, even if the money can be borrowed on reasonable terms, for the city to spend the enormous sum of $42,900,000 on water works at this time? The schools and other public buildings are yet to be rebuilt, and property-owners are borrowing money in the East, as Mr. Phelan has done, to rebuild and restore the shattered commerce of the city. As a cold business proposition, is it wise to contract a public debt of the magnitude indicated in the present posture of affairs?

The income derived by the Spring Valley Company has never yet equaled five per cent interest on $30,000,000, and Spring Valley pays taxes to the State and the city and county. Admitting that it would be just under ordinary circumstances to destroy the capital invested in the Spring Valley plant, is it expedient or wise to attempt to do so at this particular time, with conditions as they are in San Francisco?

The Oakland New Century club has closed its sewing school for the summer vacation and the last day of school was given up to an enjoyable program of music and recitations followed by a luncheon. There were eighty children present including the members of the garment class, who have been graduated from the sewing circle and meet every Saturday afternoon to sew under the direction of a teacher. The cooking class under the guidance of Mrs. Fenton were reluctant to close the oven door but will have a chance to put into practice at home the lessons they have learned in the art of cooking during the past year.

A special attraction offered by the cooking class is the "ring cake" and all friends of the ambitious cooks are invited to attend the class next term, sample the cake and chance the distinction of finding the ring.

SHOWER PARTY.

Miss Bird Curtiss and Miss Elsie Lowry entertained last evening at

"The game of hearts," remarked the Stenographer, "is never played fairly by anybody. It's a grab game in which you take all that you can get."

"I SEE," said the Bookkeeper, "that a woman has at last been found who plays the game of courtship fairly."

"The game of hearts," remarked the Stenographer "is never played fairly by anybody. It's a grab game in which you take all that you can get."

"So all your sex seem to think," replied the Bookkeeper. "Women regard courtship as the great grafting opportunity of their lives when, instead of being a crime, it's a positive virtue to hold a man up and get from him all the candy, and ice cream, and theater tickets, and automobile rides that he's got concealed about his person."

"It's only during courtship that most women ever get a taste of candy and see the good shows, poor things," murmured the Stenographer sympathetically. "I don't blame 'em for taking all they can get."

BEING IN LOVE EXPENSIVE.

"Being in love, or thinking you are," said the Bookkeeper, "is about the most expensive thing that I know of. Makes your pocket feel like the seventeen-year-old locusts had been through them, and the worst of it is that a girl—a nice, conscientious, Christian girl, will calmly eat up your substance, and then tell you that she's changed her mind about marrying you, but will always be a sister to you—as if anybody ever spent anything he could help in entertaining a sister!"

"I tell you, it's shaken my faith in your sex, but my waning trust has been restored by the noble action of an up-State girl."

"What did she do?" inquired the Stenographer languidly.

HE GOT THE FROZEN "MITT."

"Simply this," replied the Bookkeeper, "when she failed to make good by accompanying the young man who had wooed her to the altar, she reimbursed him for the time and money that he had spent in courting her. It seems that for fourteen long years he had paid her attentions. He had taken her to country fairs, and treated her to rides on the merry-go-round, and bought her popcorn, and had spent the hours when he might have been plowing corn in taking her buggy riding.

"FINALLY, HOWEVER, THIS CRUEL, FAIR ONE RUTHLESSLY HANDED HER ADORER THE FROZEN MITT, AND WHEN HE WENT HOME WITH HIS WOUNDED HEART AND EMPTY POCKETBOOK AND SAT DOWN TO FIGURE OUT THE DAMAGES HE HAD SUSTAINED, HE FOUND OUT THAT, COUNTING UP THE TIME HE HAD LOST IN MAKING LOVE IN HAYING SEASONS AND OTHER BUSY TIMES OF THE YEAR, AND ACTUAL MONEY SPENT, HE WAS TO THE BAD $71.75."

"Finally, however, this cruel, fair one ruthlessly handed her adorer the frozen mitt, and when he went home with his wounded heart and empty pocketbook and sat down to figure out the damages he had sustained, he found out that, counting up the time he had lost in making love in haying seasons and other busy times of the year, and actual money spent, he was to the bad $71.75. Thereupon he presented a bill to his ex-lady love, and—here comes in the remarkable part of the story—she paid it without a word of protest."

"I should think she would," exclaimed the Stenographer. "Think of getting fourteen years of ardent love-making for $71.75! Think of the gratification of flaunting a real live beau, who meant business, for fourteen years in other women's faces for the insignificant sum of $71.75! Why, it was a regular marked-down bargain sale of courtship that any woman would have grabbed up at the price. There's one bill that a woman never disputes, and that's the bill for love. If it's been the genuine article, she pays the score, no matter what it is, without a murmur."

HARDLY A FAIR PROPOSITION.

"Still," said the Bookkeeper, "it doesn't look hardly fair to charge a girl for courting her."

"It isn't," returned the Stenographer, "it's a mean, penurious trick that I don't hold with for a minute, but there's no telling what we are coming to. Hostesses tell me that the only way that they can get enough men to go around at their parties is by stuffing them, and that to give their daughters the appearance of belles they have to haul men around in motor cars, and send them tickets to their opera boxes, and railroad tickets for out of town places. If things go on that way, it won't be long until love making will be classed among the luxuries, and a girl's papa will have to put up for all the expense of her courtship."

"What's worth having is worth paying for," quoted the Bookkeeper maliciously.

"Well," responded the Stenographer, "before I pay for any love-making I hope men will learn how to do it better. I'm not going to spraddle away any of my good money on the bungling, amateurish kind of courtship that I see girls putting up with. When I invest I've got to have a real, genuine, gilt-edge Booth Tarkington article."

SECRET ENGAGEMENTS ARE DISASTROUS TO HAPPINESS

One Deceit Forces Thousand Falsehoods on Girl Who Is Placed in Unenviable Position by Fiance.

No girl should ever enter into a secret engagement with any man. In the first place, it puts the girl in an embarrassing and awkward position. No really self-respecting man could ever place a girl he loved in so unenviable a corner, for, by so doing, he involves her happiness in a complication which might disastrously affect or cast a shadow upon her future.

Besides this, there is the deceit of the whole thing. One deceit is the parent of a thousand lies. In order to keep the affair secret it is inevitable that circumstances crop up which either demand an expose or a falsehood to save the situation. Both these alternatives are to be utterly condemned and are not for one moment to be entertained.

When an engagement is once consented to by a girl she should be only too proud to make the announcement to her relatives and friends. If not, then surely there is something wrong, and all is not above board, as it should be.

It is not always the fault of the man when secrecy is enjoined. Sometimes a girl will pledge her lover to keep the thing dark because she knows that when tied to him by the chains of love and loyalty she ought to be perfectly true to him. Flirting with other men will have to give place to greater decorum if everyone knows of the engagement, or else people will talk.

Yes, sad though it be to say it, some girls have demanded a secret engagement so that they can carry on flirtations without arousing suspicious criticism! Such a thing is utterly mean and contemptible, and is to be heartily condemned. Fancy, if the man knew! What would his feelings be?

Fancy a girl who really cares for a man becoming secretly engaged to him so that she thinks as far as she is concerned, she can continue to flirt with other men without causing comment! Such an idea is preposterous and cannot be too severely criticized. Such heartless flirts have surely no sense of fairness. The same applies, equally, of course, to those men who also become secretly engaged to girls and carry on flirtations in the same way.

It is so easy to start a small deception, but how difficult it is to end it! How lie has to succeed lie, in order to cover the story and make it plausible! Unexpected opportunities are always cropping up for spiteful people to make remarks. Then out has to come some excuse to defend any attack or imputation that might involve the lovers into a confession of an engagement.

When courtship commences in an underhand way it does not augur very bright prospects for future wedded happiness. Married life must not be preceded by base deception.

No, don't have secret engagements. Whatever the circumstances may be, announce the happy fact, and be thankful that the whole thing is open and above contempt.

THRICE DISAPPOINTED WOMAN ASKS BALM.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., June 25.—One of the most peculiar breach of promise suits ever heard in the local courts was that of Amanda Stofflet vs. Daniel P. Kinsel, of Royersford. The defendant is 53 years old and the woman is 48 and weighs 300 pounds. Miss Stofflet declared that Kinsel was the only man she had ever loved, though she admitted that she had been disappointed twice by other men.

Kinsel made a long speech to the jury. He denied ever having promised to marry the woman. He said that she and her sister had coaxed him to marry her, but that he had never promised. The case was given to the jury this evening.

YOUNG GIRL MISSING AFTER SUICIDE THREAT.

TRAVERTON, Pa., June 25.—Not finding the slightest trace as to the whereabouts of Miss Nora Edwards, a searching party returned from the mountains today with the belief that she met death and that her body is probably in a mine breach. She is a young girl, and came here from Shamokin last Saturday night to visit relatives.

Because she did not report earlier in the evening to her relatives after arriving here she was reprimanded. She said she would go into the mountains and kill herself, and before any one could prevent she disappeared.

HUSBAND GETS $1000 BALM FOR WIFE'S LOVE.

FREEHOLD, N. J., June 25.—A verdict of $1000 damages was given by a jury in the Circuit Court here today in favor of Donald A. Manson, of Long Branch, against William E. Van Dyke, an employee of the Consolidated Gas Company of New Jersey and a property owner at Long Branch.

The charge was alienation of Mrs. Manson's affections after she and her husband separated.

Divorce proceedings have been instituted by Mrs. Manson. This is said to be the first case of the sort ever tried in New Jersey.

YORKSHIRE PUDDING.

With a pint of flour sift a teaspoonful each of salt and baking powder. Beat two eggs light and stir them into a pint of milk, pour this upon the sifted flour and mix quickly. Take the roast of beef from the pan in which it was baked and put on a heated platter to keep warm while you set the pan, with the drippings from the beef, on the upper grating of the oven. As soon as the fat begins to bubble pour in the batter and bake to a golden brown. Cut into squares and lay around the beef on the platter.

BULL TERRIER PRESERVER IS GIVEN TO LITTLE GIRL

Dog Known as "Pat" That Saved Berkeley Miss From Drowning Two Years Ago Is Sent as Present to Her.

SANTA ROSA, June 25.—Alfred Burke of this city has presented his splendid bull terrier, "Pat," to Miss Wylda Waterman of Berkeley. The noble animal saved the life of its little mistress when she was drowning in a large pool of water at the sanatorium a couple of years ago, and she is more than devotedly attached to her canine friend. The child was playing with some companions on the banks of Mark West creek, and accidentally slipped into a deep pool.

Some companions who were with the child began to scream, and "Pat," who was some distance away, was attracted by the commotion "Pat" went to the edge of the stream and

LOSES HER LINGERIE; GETS BAG OF WIRE BY MISTAKE

PHILADELPHIA, June 25.—An hysterical woman made things hum yesterday at the Chestnut street ferry when she discovered that in place of a bag containing several valuable pieces of jewelry, to say nothing of innumerable ruffled garments run with pink and blue ribbons, she had a horrid old grip stuffed with wires, carbons and kindred nasty things.

Quite happily, Mrs. Mary Phillips left her Mount Airy home yesterday, en route for Cape May, with her nearest and dearest possessions in her Gladstone bag. This she placed on the floor while she purchased her ticket; then in one of those mad last-minute rushes for the boat she picked up the nearest valise and fled on board. A few minutes later an excited, flurried woman burst into Superintendent McCausland's office in Camden, where it took the whole office force to pacify her.

In the meantime, Professor William H. Amwake of Blackwood, N. J., and his small granddaughter, had reached Broad street station, where the youngster shrieked, "Grandpa, that isn't your bag."

A hasty inspection proved that the little girl was right, and a much embarrassed professor retracted his steps to the ferry, from which the detective assigned to the duty was about to start in search of the missing lingerie.

Amid mutual apologies, bags were exchanged, and the respective journeys resumed.

WOMAN REFUSES DIVORCE AFTER BEING GRANTED ONE

Discovers That Her Renounced Husband Is Making Plans to Marry a Rich Widow.

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., June 25.—After obtaining a divorce, Mrs. George N. Ostrander, wife of the wealthy corporation lawyer of Albany, is taking steps to have the decree set aside. She will appeal to Governor Hughes, if necessary.

Jealousy and desire to prevent any other woman from having the man she renounced is the reason for her strange action.

The decree provided that neither person was to remarry, and Mrs. Ostrander was to receive $60,000 and custody of their child. Recently Mrs. Ostrander heard that her husband was going outside the state and marry Mrs. Harriet Finch, widow of Ostrander's lifelong friend.

By wedding Mrs. Finch would lose a $25,000 annuity, but as it would revert to Ostrander, executor and residuary legatee of Finch's estate, she would not lose.

Mrs. Ostrander, in her efforts to have the decree set aside, says that the filing of the decree was illegal in that she did not authorize it. She attributes the unauthorized filing to her husband or his agents.

SOME - LATE - NEWS - FROM - WEST - OAKLAND

SHAKEUP ON HARRIMAN'S LINES IS NOW PREDICTED

Vice-President Julius Kruttschnitt Has Orders From His Chief to Clear Congested Freight Yards.

WEST OAKLAND, June 25.—Vice-President Julius Kruttschnitt of the Southern Pacific did not come here last evening as expected but went from Sacramento to Stockton. Today his private car, with Kruttschnitt and party went to Fresno. It is understood that the visiting official will arrive here some time this evening. (General Manager E. E. Culpin and the officials of the western division of the Southern Pacific went up the road yesterday to greet Vice-President Kruttschnitt. It is believed here that as a result of Kruttschnitt's tour of inspection there will be a lively shake-up of Southern Pacific and Oregon Short Line officials in the near future. Just how far the broom will sweep or where or when the lightning will strike is as yet locked in the breast of Vice-President Kruttschnitt and he, of course, will tell only President E. H. Harriman. That there may be a few changes near the bay is possible. Though the yard and general freight business of the company here are in fair condition and would be better if conditions elsewhere were different.

HARRIMAN FEELS SORE. Harriman is known to be exasperated over the long-drawn out congestion of freight trains at Sacramento, Mendoto and Stockton, and at Sparks in Nevada. He feels aggrieved, too, because after favoring San Francisco to his utmost after the earthquake and fire of last year, her merchants are lagging in taking their merchandise from his cars. Notices of demurrage charges failed to relieve the situation to any great extent because a large percentage of the San Francisco merchants found themselves tied hard and fast. They had become occupants of hurriedly built shacks, which were utterly without protection from fire. Most of these merchants had ordered goods from eastern manufacturers, wholesalers or importers on the understanding that credits would be extended to enable the fire-stricken retailers to recount. Whatever insurance they had come into the hands of the San Francisco retail merchants was mostly expended in paying exorbitant rents, or extraordinary charges of material men and mechanics for construction new stores, and as first installment on ordered goods.

At this stage of the situation the fire insurance companies, whose managers and agents had been denounced as swindlers and were threatened with new legislation, canceled policies wholesale in the new business districts of San Francisco, and absolutely declined to accept any risks on stocks of merchandise there except at prohibitive rates.

TIGHTLY TIED UP. The retailers were therefore unable to take their merchandise from the cars because the wholesalers and manufacturers in the East insisted that their interests in the partly-paid for merchandise must be protected by insurance the moment it was taken

BUTTERS' ROAD GOING AHEAD

Line Expected to be Operating Between Sacramento and Marysville Soon.

WEST OAKLAND, June 25.—Henry A. Butters of this city is likely to see his Northern Electric road operating its line between Sacramento and Marysville by the middle of September and perhaps sooner. Information received about this road from Sacramento is to the following effect: "Nine miles of track are laid south of Marysville and track is being laid at the rate of a mile a day. Just north of this city track is being laid to the American river bridge, a mile north of the city. The bridge will be finished inside of two weeks, and rails, ties, etc., will be furnished from this end. "The Northern Electric is the first of the new electric roads that will enter Sacramento. It will give a close connection with all of the northern part of the Sacramento valley, and will place Marysville within an hour's ride, Chico an hour and a half, and make Oroville and Redding near neighbors. "Within a year four, and probably five, electric lines will reach out with Sacramento to the north, which had a contributing point for all of the northern part of the State. This city now has nearly 50,000 inhabitants, and property values have doubled during the past two years, though there has been no boom. Many factories have been established here, and the construction of railroads to this point, including the Western Pacific and its feeders, have had much to do with it."

GALLAGHER'S O. K. MAY NOT BE HONORED BY TREASURER

Rumor That City Treasurer Will Insist That All Bills Bear Signature of Schmitz.

(TRIBUNE CORRESPONDENCE.) SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—Thirty bills amounting to about $70,000 will be issued today from the auditor's office at the board of supervisors, bearing Mayor Gallagher's signature. Gallagher is signing these bills this morning. They will then go to the auditor, who will approve of them. It is the creditors of the city, who will receive the bills, to whom the problem of getting them cashed is left. It is inferred from statements of the treasurer that he will not honor the signature of Acting Mayor Gallagher. In this case each one of the thirty creditors will be obliged to take his bill to Mayor Schmitz at the county jail to obtain his signature.

Many of the bills are small ones, some of them amounting to but $2 or $3. In each case, however, the man who wishes to secure his money will be obliged to hunt up Mayor Schmitz and secure his signature. Two bills for gas make up the largest item in the week's list of expenses. They are for $20,000 each, and together make up over half the amount called for by the thirty bills which are awaiting signatures. "So far as we are concerned in this office," said Clerk Ryan of the board of supervisors, "we are only concerned in seeing that the bills are properly audited and signed. Mr. Gallagher's signature is authorized by the district attorney, who passes upon matters of law. Whether or not the treasurer will recognize these bills is no matter of ours. That will have to be settled between the creditors and treasurer."

PROF. CLAPP NOW TRAVELING IN ITALY

BERKELEY, June 25.—Professor Edward Bul Clapp, who has been appointed for the ensuing year Professor of Greek at the American school of Classical Studies in Athens, is spending the summer in travel in Europe. A letter just received at the university indicates that he reached Rome in the early part of June. He had previously spent some time in Germany, whence he departed for Italy, visiting various cities on the Peninsula. He stopped first at Naples and afterward passed some very pleasant days on the island of Capri. Leaving Capri, Professor Clapp went to the site of the famous city of Pompeii at the foot of Mount Vesuvius. He finally reached Rome on June 4.

BRAZIL GUARANTEES LOAN. RIO JANEIRO, June 25.—The Brazilian Chamber has approved the guarantee of the Sao Paulo coffee loan of $1,000,000.

Robert Yates, foreman of the machine shops at the Southern Pacific yards, was detained from his duties yesterday by illness.

Fourteen switchmen belonging to an organization not recognized by the Brotherhood of Trainmen, nor by the Southern Pacific Company, held an indignation meeting because two of their number were dismissed from the yards owing to over-indulgence in red liquor. The meeting is not taken seriously by other switchmen.

While passenger traffic on the Eighth street line of the traction company has not kept up of late to the figure it reached last summer, still it is one of the best paying lines of the local street railway system. There are two shifts of six cars each, and the daily receipts, according to conductors on this line, average about $55 per day for each of the cars.

On one night run six months ago I took in $66," said one of these conductors, "and $40 is not an unusual night's receipts. Day cars take about $30 each. It's one-half profit to the company," he added.

Johnson, at the conclusion of the session to a TRIBUNE correspondent, "that this is a move on the part of the defense to take the entire matter of the grand jury proceedings into the appellate court. They evidently filed this motion here in order to take advantage of the court's refusal to pass upon it, admit it, and we expect they will now carry the matter to the appellate court."

After having the motions to stay proceedings refused admission, Attorney Barrett filed motions in each of the indictments for the three defendants to have the indictments set aside. The grounds offered are similar to those already been brought forward in other cases, namely, insufficiency of evidence, irregularity of grand jury proceedings and political conspiracy on the part of the prosecution.

SECRETARY ON STAND. The inquiry was conducted this morning by Attorney McEnerney. Secretary Burnett of the grand jury was first examined as to whether the stenographers who took the testimony had been admitted by a motion and duly sworn. Secretary Burnett testified that to the best of his recollection two motions had been passed authorizing the employment of stenographers and that the stenographers were both sworn by Foreman Oliver. Miss Condon was then called to the stand and testified that the transcript of evidence furnished by the District Attorney was a complete record of all that she had taken in the gas cases during the sessions of the grand jury.

District Attorney O'Garra introduced a motion that the proper remedy for the defense was to mandamus the District Attorney to compel him to deliver all the evidence if they feared they had not secured it. Judge Lawlor overruled the objection, the motion to stay proceedings and to set aside indictments were then introduced and court adjourned until this afternoon.

A CLEVER TURN of speech comes from Boston, where lingual callisthenics are much in vogue. A comely maiden asked her company "which form he considered dramatically sound. "I would rather go home early," or "I had rather go home early." His answer was evasive in effect that he thought it should be "I'll stay as late as possible." "You think," she retorted, "why don't you know? It's the same old game, class, isn't it? One thing I know is that you don't want to quit early at all." The fellow conciliates his sweetheart at Lehn's and he needn't stay overtime either. Sweetness for sweetness—that's the caper.

PARTY RATES ABOLISHED BY RAILROAD'S PRESIDENT

Harriman Overrules Decision of Local Lawyers and Surprises His Other Officials on This Coast.

WEST OAKLAND, June 25.—President Harriman has ordered the abolition of party rates for interstate trips on the Pacific Coast for baseball teams, concert companies and theatrical combinations. Recently the Interstate Commission decided that party rates, as made for fifteen or more people by the Southern Pacific were illegal unless given to the general public in addition to baseball and concert and theatrical companies. The Southern Pacific lawyers here decided that those rates were not illegal and proposed to fight the commission on that question in the Federal courts.

Johnson, at the conclusion of the session to a TRIBUNE correspondent, "that this is a move on the part of the defense to take the entire matter of the grand jury proceedings into the appellate court. They evidently filed this motion here in order to take advantage of the court's refusal to pass upon it, admit it, and we expect they will now carry the matter to the appellate court."

After having the motions to stay proceedings refused admission, Attorney Barrett filed motions in each of the indictments for the three defendants to have the indictments set aside. The grounds offered are similar to those already been brought forward in other cases, namely, insufficiency of evidence, irregularity of grand jury proceedings and political conspiracy on the part of the prosecution.

SECRETARY ON STAND. The inquiry was conducted this morning by Attorney McEnerney. Secretary Burnett of the grand jury was first examined as to whether the stenographers who took the testimony had been admitted by a motion and duly sworn. Secretary Burnett testified that to the best of his recollection two motions had been passed authorizing the employment of stenographers and that the stenographers were both sworn by Foreman Oliver. Miss Condon was then called to the stand and testified that the transcript of evidence furnished by the District Attorney was a complete record of all that she had taken in the gas cases during the sessions of the grand jury.

District Attorney O'Garra introduced a motion that the proper remedy for the defense was to mandamus the District Attorney to compel him to deliver all the evidence if they feared they had not secured it. Judge Lawlor overruled the objection, the motion to stay proceedings and to set aside indictments were then introduced and court adjourned until this afternoon.

A CLEVER TURN of speech comes from Boston, where lingual callisthenics are much in vogue. A comely maiden asked her company "which form he considered dramatically sound. "I would rather go home early," or "I had rather go home early." His answer was evasive in effect that he thought it should be "I'll stay as late as possible." "You think," she retorted, "why don't you know? It's the same old game, class, isn't it? One thing I know is that you don't want to quit early at all." The fellow conciliates his sweetheart at Lehn's and he needn't stay overtime either. Sweetness for sweetness—that's the caper.

STEINWAY AND OTHER PIANOS VICTOR TALKING MACHINES

THE INIMITABLE STEINWAY PIANO

Each piece of every Steinway Piano is the personal work of a man who knows how to make that one thing better than any one else. He is directed by the greatest family of piano-makers the world has ever known to make his work exactly fit and agree with the product of his co-laborers in forming a harmonious part of the most beautiful development possible in a musical instrument. This ideal condition of manufacture has been brought about by years of skillfully planned organization, patiently directed discovery, untiringly pursued research, brilliantly applied invention—underlaid with the broadest practical experience. The unity of effort has made the Steinway Piano inimitable. Fortunes have been spent in the endeavor to make a piano like it—but not until time, art, talents, loyalty of men and zeal of worthy ambition can be bought will the spending be successful.

Let us demonstrate to you the full meaning of this specialization. Come and hear the Vertegrand ($525), in many ways the most wonderful piano ever made, and the Miniature Grand ($800), the supreme small grand, the smallest real grand. Welcome—buy or not.

NEW TAX RATE.

Having overridden Mayor Schmitz's veto on various features in the budget of the Board of Supervisors yesterday passed to print an ordinance fixing the tax levy for the fiscal year 1907-08 at $1.45 on every $100 of the assessed valuation of property.

INJUNCTION DENIED.

Yesterday Judge Seawell denied a writ of injunction against the Board of Supervisors and the auditor and treasurer to prevent the collection of the tax levied in the levy for the municipalization of the Geary-street railroad on the ground that it might invalidate the tax levy as a whole.

TAX DELINQUENCY.

The total tax delinquency this year is said by Tax Collector Nichols to be less than $40,000, the smallest in the history of the office.

TWO JUDGMENTS BY DEFAULT.

M. C. de Laveaga obtained two judgments by default from United States Circuit Judge Van Fleet yesterday against the warring Rhine and Moselle Fire Insurance company, one for $15,000 insurance and $242 interest, and the other for $6,000 and $497 interest.

BETTERMENT CLUB ORGANIZED.

The West End Betterment club has been organized with the following officers: President, J. J. Sullivan, first vice-president, General E. S. Salmon, second vice-president, T. A. Scott; secretary, Harry Niemann, treasurer, H. Hackfeld; sergeant-at-arms, C. T. Lynn; executive committee, W. S. Freyberger, C. H. Green, Louis Brown, O. A. Toller, Louis Bendel; publicity committee, M. Gumpel, C. Martin and James Daly. Local improvement is its object.

AN OLD SWINDLE REPEATED.

Bert Campbell, with half a dozen aliases known to the police, a notorious fake footcure, is in custody charged with grand larceny, for having swindled Roy Sellers of Spokane out of $500 by his customary methods of business-holding stakes in a fake footcure and disappearing with the money.

THIEVES GET WORSTED.

Thieves were discovered at a late hour last evening in front of a Golden Gate avenue plumbing shop loading up a wagon with iron pipes at Fox and Leavenworth street, reading a newspaper. Heart disease is supposed to have been the cause of the capture. The men were found on his person to establish his identity.

RESTORED STREET CAR SERVICE.

President Calhoun says a complete service of the street car system of the United Railroads company, except the owl cars, will be restored during the week.

DEATH OF UNKNOWN MAN.

An unknown man, apparently about 65 years of age, and well dressed, suddenly collapsed yesterday morning while sitting on pile of bricks at Fox and Leavenworth street, reading a newspaper. Heart disease is supposed to have been the cause of the capture. The men were found on his person to establish his identity.

STRUCK BY A DERRICK.

Charles Day, a laborer, was seriously injured yesterday by a swinging derrick operated at the intersection of Folk and Sacramento streets.

SUSPECTED SUICIDE.

Henry J. Mott, aged 45 years, died at the county hospital yesterday morning a short time after being brought in for treatment by a patrolman who had found him lying on the sidewalk at Fourteenth and Howard, suffering apparently from morphine poisoning while he was in the act of having taken with suicidal intent.

ATTEMPT TO DEFRAUD.

M. Warrantian was yesterday held by Judge Cabanis to answer before the Superior Court to a charge of attempting to obtain money under false pretenses from the San Francisco Bankers' association. On March 4th Warrantian drew $219.39 out of deposit to his credit of $200, being that he had lost his bank book. Later he attempted to draw $200 more on the showing made in the bank book which he had produced. The first transaction was recalled by the teller, hence Warrantian's arrest.

LOSES JOB IN GOULD SCANDAL

New York Police Lieutenant Dismissed for Collecting Evidence Against Wife.

NEW YORK, June 25.—Lieutenant Frank Peabody, who was ordered by former Inspector McLaughlin to get evidence against Mrs. Howard Gould, was dismissed from the police force yesterday by Commissioner Bingham.

The commissioner thought at first that the detective had been made a fool of by McLaughlin and others interested in the Gould troubles, but as he had to Commissioner Hanson when the Gould inquiry was made and tried to cover his tracks, General Bingham believed that he was corrupt.

The having received an order of secrecy from his inspector made Peabody make false statements to the superior of both the inspector and himself is a subterfuge well illustrating the workings of the system. Only after Peabody's false statement was proved from outside sources did he finally admit his guilt. This shows him a stubborn and insubordinate liar. I have personally talked with and studied Peabody, and have no hesitation in saying that he is utterly untrustworthy and does not hesitate to do such a man is unfit to be a member of this police force.

It was said at police headquarters that Peabody had secured a good job as detective for the West Shore Railroad.

KING CARLOS' THRONE SHAKES

LONDON, June 25.—A correspondent of the Tribune says in a letter mailed from Lisbon June 19 that King Carlos' throne is in imminent danger of being swept away by the rush of a great democratic wave, swollen suddenly to dangerous proportions by the act of despotism which he permitted on May 1.

The people do not forget the report that last year the king condemned Premier Ribeiro's attempt to dissolve the Cortes, and they contrast this attitude toward a conservative premier with the curious, illogical license he has given to Premier Franco.

The general feeling of the country is one of advanced liberalism, and a repetition of autocratic hounding can have only one result today in Portugal, namely, the deposition of the king and the establishment of a republic.

The Hub Clothing Co.'s Wireless

This is an unrepeatable wireless, and should be read thoughtfully; then call and see us about it. Our Mr. Irving Jonas, who has been in the New York markets for the past two months, was on account of the cool weather in the East, enabled to buy the entire stock of MEN'S and YOUTHS' two-piece outing Suits, and Trousers, of several of the largest manufacturers of these goods at about 66 $\frac{2}{3}$ cents on the dollar. He immediately wired us to place them on sale for a limited time at $\frac{1}{3}$ off their regular price. They consist of all the latest novelties in Fancy and Plain Worsteds, Tweeds and Cheviots, cut in the new mid-summer models just fashioned; they are both single and double breasted, with cuffs on the pants; the coats—some two-button for the extremist in style, others three-button for the more conservative dresser. ALL QUIT WORK WHEN SOME ARE LAID OFF

NEW YORK, June 25.—As a protest against the action of the department laying their fellow workers off, 250 employees of the street cleaning department in Manhattan and Bronx boroughs went on strike today. The men are cart drivers, sweepers and dumpmen. It has been the custom in the street cleaning department to cut down the regular working force during the summer months. Under this system some men who have been regularly employed through the winter at $2.50 a day are put on the extra list and are allowed $1.75 a day when they work. The strikers want all the men retained at the regular rate of wages.

OPERATORS' GRIEVANCES ARE LAID BEFORE MACKAY

President Small of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union Writes Letter to the Postal Company President.

In a recent letter written to Clarence Mackay, president of the Postal Telegraph Company, President Small of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America outlined the grievances of the striking operators whose wages have been gravitating instead of increasing since the agreement for better wages and hours was proposed. The purport of Small's letter is as follows:

"For many years the telegraphers witnessed the continued regression of their craft. They saw their expenses increase and the power of their wages decrease, while the wages and conditions of workers in other spheres of employment were improving. Telegraphers' rate of pay was continually gravitating toward a lower level. Wages in other spheres outside of the main departments also suffered a reduction, and at the same time the hours of employment lengthened.

"In many places the operating rooms were overcrowded and badly ventilated and the necessary relief conveniences delayed. Juniors, lacking sufficient education and experience, were assigned to first-class circuits at a compensation lower than that paid to men who carried the burden of family responsibilities. The senior telegraphers always suffered from the competition of the juniors whose labor was for the most part unskilled.

"Nine to twelve hours of service was required from a telegrapher anxious to work during the hours of daylight and the night. The policy of the company to profit through the desire of the men to work the day shifts. The tyranny of the under officials had to be endured. Complaint to the official in charge of a district brought no redress, and petitions for improvements were especially frowned upon. The harsh conditions then prevailing—conditions practically prevailing at this time—evoked a spirit of unrest. In the telegraph offices of the country operators had virtually lost their individuality and independence. Realizing the situation, the telegraphers were powerless to improve the existing order of things, and that the future offered nothing in the way of advancement to encourage them, conferences of telegraphers were arranged and held in different cities. The general situation was reviewed and as a result of their deliberations the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America was organized to advance, protect and maintain the interests of the telegraphers, who represented by engaged in the occupation of telegraphy. Capable intellects and efficient workmen living with each other for the property of the industry effected, through harmony and accord, will assure the success of all concerned. Therefore we have decided to submit for your due and kind consideration a number of statements and grievances from your brethren which, when properly considered, we believe will be immediately remedied.

EVASION IS CHARGED. "On September 26 last country set of rules and regulations were agreed to by the general superintendent of your company at Chicago, after several conferences with the committee of your telegraphers, who represented by engaged in the occupation of telegraphy. From the very day the rules and regulations were promulgated they have been persistently evaded, violated and broken by the company's representatives in Chicago."
